

Give additional information that is not required to do the task.	Students identify the 'problem to solve'	Present a provocation and ask students to determine the problem to solve.
Include some irrelevant information	From procedure to problem solving	Provide insufficient information at first
Provide multi-step problems and do not state all the steps.	Provide only some of the steps	Give a perplexing problem and slowly provide information as needed.

Give additional information that is not required to do the task.	Students identify the 'problem to solve'	Present a provocation and ask students to determine the problem to solve.
Include some irrelevant information	From procedure to problem solving	Provide insufficient information at first
Provide multi-step problems and do not state all the steps.	Provide only some of the steps	Give a perplexing problem and slowly provide information as needed.

Give additional information that is not required to do the task.	Students identify the 'problem to solve'	Present a provocation and ask students to determine the problem to solve.
Include some irrelevant information	From procedure to problem solving	Provide insufficient information at first
Provide multi-step problems and do not state all the steps.	Provide only some of the steps	Give a perplexing problem and slowly provide information as needed.

Give additional information that is not required to do the task.	Students identify the 'problem to solve'	Present a provocation and ask students to determine the problem to solve.
Include some irrelevant information	From procedure to problem solving	Provide insufficient information at first
Provide multi-step problems and do not state all the steps.	Provide only some of the steps	Give a perplexing problem and slowly provide information as needed.

Give additional information that is not required to do the task.	Students identify the 'problem to solve'	Present a provocation and ask students to determine the problem to solve.
Include some irrelevant information	From procedure to problem solving	Provide insufficient information at first
Provide multi-step problems and do not state all the steps.	Provide only some of the steps	Give a perplexing problem and slowly provide information as needed.

Give additional information that is not required to do the task.	Students identify the 'problem to solve'	Present a provocation and ask students to determine the problem to solve.
Include some irrelevant information	From procedure to problem solving	Provide insufficient information at first
Provide multi-step problems and do not state all the steps.	Provide only some of the steps	Give a perplexing problem and slowly provide information as needed.

Position
students to plan a way forward

Position
students to
plan a way
forward